CLASSICAL ASTROLOGY · SOLAR RETURN

Return of the Sun: Sunday 31 May 2026, at 02:08:49 (PDT, UTC-07:00)
Universal Time: 31/05/2026 09:08:49 UTC · JD 2461191.88113
Place of residence: Mill Valley, California, USA
Coordinates: 37°54.36' N · 122°32.70' W
Natal Sun: 9°56'43" Gemini (born Sunday 31 May 1964)
Valid until: Monday 31 May 2027

Wheel of the solar return (Placidus houses for the place of residence). Lines: red = opposition and square, blue = trine and sextile, ochre = quincunx.

☉ 9°56′ Gemini · ☽ 10°07′ Sagittarius · AC 19°25′ Pisces

The key points of the year

Point	Where	What it means
Ascendant of the year	19°25' Pisces — falls in natal house 8	the tone of the year; the natal house shows the field that lights up: shared resources, transformations, inheritances
Sun in house	3 of the return	where the year's energy goes: words, studies, siblings, short trips
Moon	10°07' Sagittarius, house 9 of the return (natal 4)	the emotional need of the year: travel, studies, far horizons
Midheaven of the year	24°04' Sagittarius — in natal house 5	the public direction of the year runs through: love, children, creativity, play
Natal Ascendant	in house 6 of the return	where your nature finds its place this year: daily work, health, habits
Lunar phase	full Moon	new = sowing; full = harvest and visibility; waning = closing and letting go

The solar return is the chart of the sky at the exact instant when the Sun comes back to the degree and minute of birth: it describes the climate of the year from this birthday to the next. It is calculated for the place where one lives, not where one was born: a change of city changes the Ascendant and the houses, that is the fields of life the year lights up.

In order of increasing orb; in bold, aspects within 2°. Orbs: conjunction and opposition 8° (10° with Sun or Moon), trine and square 7°, sextile 5°, quincunx 3°; with Ascendant and Midheaven 5° (sextile 3°); with Node, Chiron and Lilith 4° (sextile 3°). A = applying, S = separating.

Your balance in plain words. Every sign has an element (what it is made of) and a mode (how it moves); the count is over the ten planets and the Ascendant, 11 points. A high number (5 or more) shows what prevails in the character, a low one (0 or 1) what is missing or must be sought: it is the background, not a judgement. The full explanation is in the guide "Elements, modes and Lilith".

Count	what it stands for	in this chart
Fire 3	energy, drive, enthusiasm, initiative: acts first, thinks later	balanced
Earth 1	concreteness, patience, practical sense, constancy: wants to see facts	weak: many ideas and little hand: projects stay in the air
Air 4	ideas, words, relationships, detachment: understands and communicates	balanced
Water 3	feeling, intuition, memory, sensitivity: feels before reasoning	balanced
Cardinal 4	starts: takes the initiative, opens, leads	balanced
Fixed 2	keeps: tenacity, constancy, long memory	balanced
Mutable 5	adapts: flexibility, curiosity, variety	dominant: agile, impatient with routine and fixed roles

How to read it: the natal house where a planet of the return falls shows which field of your life that planet animates this year; the aspects (within 2°) show with what harmony or tension. What counts most: the Ascendant and Midheaven of the year, the Sun, the Moon and the planets that touch your natal points with a tight orb.

Bruno Farnesi

Every passage of the slow planets (Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune, Pluto, Chiron, North Node) to your natal chart that becomes exact in the year of this return, from 31/05/2026 to 31/05/2027, in date order. Each passage is felt in the weeks around the date (months for Neptune and Pluto); the same passage written two or three times is the planet moving forward, back, and forward again: the theme lasts the whole period. How to read it: who arrives (the planet) · how (on = conjunction, the strongest; trine and sextile help; square and opposition create tension) · where (the point of your chart and its house).

When	Passage	What it means for you
Fri 17 Jul 2026	♇ Pluto on the Moon	Transforms from top to bottom in your emotions, home and family (house 6: daily work and health).
Sat 18 Jul 2026	♅ Uranus trine the Moon	Brings welcome novelty and freedom in your emotions, home and family (house 6: daily work and health).

This page tells the year of the solar return in plain words, theme by theme. Astrology describes climates and tendencies, not certain facts; the lines on health speak of energy and rhythms and do not replace a doctor.

The theme of the year

The return of 31 May 2026, calculated for Mill Valley, has the Ascendant in Pisces, falling in your natal house VIII, the Sun in house III and a full Moon (Sun opposite Moon at 0°11'): a year in which things are gathered and seen — what was done in recent years comes to light, with the people around reacting — and in which the field that lights up is that of shared resources, partners and transformations (natal house VIII). The Pisces tone of the Ascendant, with Saturn and Neptune in house I of the year, says you face it with more intuition and less haste than usual, and that you must give concrete form (Saturn) to what you feel (Neptune): the year asks you to choose and structure, not to expand.

Work

The Sun of the year in house III (words, contracts, short trips, communication), with Uranus next to it: work runs through what you say and write, through negotiations and documents, with sudden novelties in the way you communicate or in the means. The Midheaven of the year in Sagittarius falls in your natal house V (creative projects, what carries your name): the public direction of 2026-27 is a project of your own, not an assignment received. Saturn of the year in house I and Mars in house II: you work hard and you build — but with Mars in Taurus in the house of money, the pace is that of Taurus, not Gemini. Pluto of the year on your natal Moon (0°51') and in house XI of the year: a deep transformation in daily work and in group collaborations, which asks you to let go of a habit or a role.

Home and family

Venus and Jupiter of the year in Cancer, in house IV (Venus) and V (Jupiter) of the year, both in your natal house XI: home and family are the comfort of the year — warm affections, hospitality, the extended family gathering; Venus in exact sextile to your Midheaven (0°09') and trine to Neptune (1°10'): harmony between home and work, and help that comes from affections. The Moon of the year in Sagittarius, house IX (travel, abroad) and natal house IV: the emotional need of the year is to move — Italy, Pisa, roots seen from afar. The Node of the year on your natal Saturn (1°07'): a family or company commitment that comes back to ask its due.

Money

Mars of the year in Taurus in house II: energy put into earning and keeping — you work for money, steadily; the square of Venus to Saturn (2°28') says that spending on home and pleasures must be watched. The Ascendant of the year in your natal house VIII: the chapter of the year is shared resources — companies, partners, banks, inheritances — and that is where something important is decided; Neptune in house I of the year advises the usual rule: everything in writing, and verify.

Love and relationships

The full Moon in the return: relationships are in full light, you see who is there; with your wife and with partners the year is one of clarity, not concealment. The Moon quincunx Mars (0°49') and trine Saturn (2°04'): some adjustment between desires and duties, but on a solid base. Venus in house IV and Jupiter in house V of the year: the affections of home and the children are the most beautiful part of the year, with Jupiter bringing an opportunity or a joy linked to children and grandchildren (house V).

Health and energy

Saturn and Neptune in house I of the year: the body asks for respect and regularity — not a year to force, and Neptunian tiredness (sleep, damp, low defences) is to be prevented with fixed rhythms. Your natal Ascendant falls in house VI of the year (health, habits): the year brings you to look after your daily regime; Pluto of the year on the natal Moon in house VI confirms that the change of habits is deep and wanted. Mars in Taurus: steady energy, not explosive — good for walking, working with the hands, building.

In one line

A year of harvest and choices: you see what you have built, you decide on shared resources, you give concrete form to a project of your own — with home and family as safe harbour. The next birthday, 31 May 2027, opens a different year.
